Instructions to Captains.

Owing a tie fact that the infantry-men hav: celved regular army pay pleted shells are turned out. for the period covered by the annual encampraent, July 23 to August 2, the captains of the companies have been instructed to except that time and make out the pay rolls as stipulated in the first clause of the above order. The Naval Phttalion boys have not received ship, which corresponds to the annual encampment of the infantry. They will therefore sign a pay roll for the six months from July 1 until December 31.

General Crozier and then sent to the to go to school at St. Rose's, and Miss Rock Island Arsenal, where the insignia Howley left her home to go to Scranton Fupils' Recital. Howey left her home to go to Scratton are already manufactured. There are a number of dates to be stamped on the bars, but it is expected the entire lot will arrive here within the next two or three days. After the insignia reaches Major Boll, it will be necessary to issue and circulate an order calling attention to bars, but it is expected the entire lot will Bell, it will be necessary to issue and cheulate an order calling attention to the fact that the prizes, buttons and bars are to be presented in order that those who are to receive them will be

The battalion commanders of the Guard are somewhat chagrined at the action local business men have taken, and which has tended to detract from the efficiency of the organization. It is said the merchants of the city keep their employes at their places of business late at night, and make it impossible for them to attend the drills and other fructions which they are supposed to perform under their oaths as Guardsmen. On last Monday evening Major Douglas Simms, commanding the Fifth battalion, Second Regiment, composed of four companies averaging fifty or sixty men each, had a battalion drill planned. The order was accordingly is sued, a full attendance was demanded and a threat made to deduct five days' pay from all those who did not report for the drill. But despite all that the drill was called off and postponed until tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock be-cause ther) were not enough men on hand to participate. Major Simms issued the following order yesterday: "The companies of the Fifth Battalion will assemble in the Center Market Armory Hall on Monday evening, November 23, at 8 o'clock for battalion drill. Fatigue uniforms, caps and leggins will be worn. Company commanders will make every effort to secure a full attendance.'

The excuse the men invariably give is that they have to "remain at the store" or have to work late, thus put-ting the blane on the storekeepers and business men, who, it is contended by officials in the Guard, should endeavor to enhance the efficiency of the local citizen-soldiery instead of doing that which would tend to disrupt it. The officials of the Guard wish the co-operation of the business interests of the city, because they realize that without it there can be no District militia. Although it has been noticed in previous years the luxity has never been so pronounced as it is this year. Efforts were
